BIG GUNS CONTINUE TO HURL SHELLS INTO MADRID

Madrid Is Again Under Heavy Fire Of Rebel Shells

Artillery Bombardment Is Unleashed On Capital For Eleventh Day

CENTER OF CITY IS BOMB TARGET

Many Killed And Wounded As Heavy Shelling Of City Continues

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, April 22.—Spain's rebel forces once again unleashed an artillery bombardment on Madrid today while the shell-torn capital counted an estimated 50 killed and 150 wounded in yesterday's barrage.

The renewed bombardment—the eleventh successive day Madrid has been subjected to insurgent shelling—realized the worst fears of the city's population, already badly shaken by the terror of yesterday's experience.

Hit Center Of City

Most of the shells were directed at the center of the city, causing great destruction. Many of the persons wounded were not expected to live.

Twenty-four insurgents six-inch shells pounded the wreckage-strewn capital over a period of two and a half hours.

More than a score of shells landed on the Grand Via, Madrid's principal thoroughfare, and other principal streets between 6 and 7:30 a. m. Two persons were known to have been killed.

The low casualty figure was attributed to the fact that most of Madrid's residents, warned of the danger by yesterday's bombardment, kept clear of the streets. Alarmist reports that deaths during the last few days have mounted

Leading Lights Of State Are "Ribbed" At Gridiron Dinner

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 22.—Gov. George H. Earle saw his financial "background" enter into a partnership with U. S. Senator Joseph Guffey, only to be left holding the sock—of "political woes."

But it was all in fun and the chief executive, members of his cabinet and legislators laughed it off with the rest.

The governor was just one of the victims of reporters' satire and the occasion was the biennial "gridiron" dinner of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' association here last night attended by more than 300 persons. The association is made up of reporters who "cover" Capitol Hill.

Many Spotlighted

John L. Lewis, with his C. I. O. was "ribbed" for his strike tactics in a song to the tune of "Old McGinty Had a Farm"; Lt. Gov. Thomas Kennedy, was portrayed as the man who didn't want the next governorship of the commonwealth—much; Edward N. Jones, WPA

GOVERNOR CALLS OUT 1600 TROOPS

Says Open Defiance Of Court Orders Cause Of Troop Orders

(International News Service)

LEWISTON, Me., April 22.—National guardsmen with fixed bayonets today patrolled the streets and guarded bridge heads and factory sites here and in nearby Auburn after wild violence flared in the 28-day strike of 6500 workers in 19 shoe factories in the twin-cities.

While scores nursed bruises following a clash between striking paraders 2000 strong and police guarding the bridge across the Androscoggin river to Auburn, during which clubs, fists, stones and tear gas bombs were brought into play, CIO leaders bombarded Washington with telegrams protesting the use of national guardsmen.

Demand Obedience To Court.

Governor Lewis O. Barrows, who ordered out 1600 militiamen, retorted by promising to call out all the troops in the state to preserve order.

"I deeply regret the need of such extreme measures, but when there is open defiance to orders of our court there is little difference from anarchy," said Governor Barrows at the state house in Augusta. "We shall not tolerate this situation for a moment."

Guardsmen Arrive.

Augusta, Me., April 22—Four hundred strong, the first contingent of 1600 national guardsmen ordered to the twin shoe cities of Lewiston and Auburn to end violence in the 28-day strike of 6500 in 19 shoe plants, arrived today at the Auburn barracks.

On request of City Manager Frederick W. Ford, eight companies of guardsmen were ordered out by Governor Lewis O. Barrows. Col. Spaulding Bisbee, in charge of the detail denied, however, that martial law had been declared.

Second Day Of Violence.

The guardsmen were ordered out after the second day of violence in which tear gas bombs were hurled by state and local police as sticks and stones were hurled by pickets and sympathizers. Several were injured and four arrested.

Hunt Slayer Of New York Woman

Mysterious Knife Wielder Is Hunted By Police, Woman Fatally Stabbed

VENGEANCE IS MOTIVE, BELIEF

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 22.—A mysterious knife wielder who lurked in the lobby of the Columbia Residential club near Riverside Drive today stabbed a pretty young woman to death and fled.

Tentatively identified as Irene Wade, about 25, the victim bled to death before her body was found by tenants of the building.

Dr. Thomas A. Gonsales, city medical examiner, discovered a deep stab wound in the girl's left leg had severed a main artery.

Detective Thomas Martin said: "This is a clear case of murder."

Martin, who solved the Helen Clevenger case, said the girl occupied a furnished room in the building with a man known as Thomas Hickey, 35, an accountant.

On Way To Work.

Hickey said the girl arose as usual to go to a Broadway restaurant where she was employed as a waitress, dressed and left the room. That was at 6:30 a. m.

An hour later Hickey said an elevator boy aroused him and told him that Miss Wade was lying in the lobby in a pool of blood. She was dead when Hickey went downstairs.

The lobby is dark and, according to Detective Martin, the killer apparently concealed himself near the mail boxes and lunged out as the girl went by.

No attempt was made to rob the victim. Her purse was found beside the body and there were several rings on her fingers.

Apparently, Detective Martin said, the murder was one of vengeance.

Bridegroom Of Twelve Year Old Girl Facing Criminal Charges Now

HOMER PEELS AND HIS CHILD BRIDE

(International News Service)

MADISONVILLE, Tenn., April 22.—Homer Peels, 32, the bridegroom of 12-year-old Geneva Hamby Peels, was named today in a criminal warrant signed by the child bride's mother, Annie Hamby, charging violation of the new Tennessee law prohibiting marriage of minors.

District Attorney General H. Beecher Witt said the clerk who issued the license with which the pair were married March 28 was named in a similar warrant sworn out by Mrs. Hamby.

County Clerk Fred Payne issued the license on a judge's order.

The mother, who has five other children, also signed an annulment bill. She said:

"I would rather see Geneva back in an orphanage than married at her age."

Despite the legal action threatening her marriage, little Geneva, who has spent most of her twelve years in an orphanage, "reckoned" she would stay right with her husband at his father's house. The girl stands only waist high beside her tall, lanky groom.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 22.—Hamilton Leftwitch, 45, Negro, one of the six prisoners who broke out of the Fayette county jail, was shot and killed today by an army of 25 police after critically wounding a state trooper as he attempted to shoot it out from a house where he was cornered.

The wounded trooper, Private Joseph A. Hoffer, of the Uniontown barracks, was in a critical condition in the Uniontown hospital where an emergency operation was performed.

Another Fugitive Taken

Shortly after the gun battle, the capture of another of the escaped prisoners, Joseph Duboy, also known as Dubois, was announced by state police at Greensburg. They said he surrendered peacefully when trapped at Crescent Heights, a little village near California, Pa., where a state teachers' college is located.

Leftwitch, awaiting trial for a murder to which he had confessed, died of a bullet that struck him squarely between the eyes as he came out shooting through the doorway of a little miner's house in Filbert, a typical mine "patch" community. About 70 shots were exchanged in the furious battle.

Officer Is Shot

Hoffer, a native of Shamokin, was shot the instant he stepped from behind an outhouse where he was directing his fire at Leftwitch. He underwent a blood transfusion

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Pa Newc notes a greater amount of repair work is being done on local homes this spring than in a number of years past. There is still a lot needed, however, and if half the homes in New Castle which need painting are given this treatment this summer, there won't be enough painters to take care of the work.

A year ago this morning New Castle folks looked out on more than an inch of snow which had fallen during the night. The temperature dropped to 23 degrees on that occasion and fears were entertained for the safety of the early fruit crop. The preceding day the thermometer had been up to 76 degrees, which only illustrates the fickleness of the weather during April.

Girl Dancer Is Fatally Burned

Hold Man As Responsible For Igniting Hula Grass Skirt Worn By Girl Dancer

(International News Service)

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 22.—An electrical phonograph in a waterfront cafe blared the strains of "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm" today as police staged a reenactment of the "torch" death of pretty May Perdue, 22, whose blazing grass hula skirt became her funeral pyre.

Matthew Donahue, 57-year-old mechanic, held on suspicion of murderously touching a match to the girl's costume, was a sober-faced principal.

Man Is Held

Police were told that Donahue was repulsed by the young woman when he sought a "date" and then impulsively held a burning match to her inflammable costume as she danced by the booth where he and Oscar O'Reilly, a boatbuilder, were drinking.

In a second flames enveloped Miss Purdue, who ran screaming to the center of the floor and collapsed. Before the fire was beaten out she was burned so severely she died a few hours later.

Donahue admitted he was "pretty" drunk but insisted he had not ignited the girl's costume. O'Reilly supported his story. Police said, however, that other witnesses named Donahue as the man responsible.

An inquest was ordered held tomorrow.

Hopkins Will Be Asked To Justify Relief Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22—Leaders on the house appropriations committee said today that Harry L. Hopkins, WPA head, and secretary of Interior Harold Ickes as PWA administrator will be summoned before the committee within 10 days to justify the proposed new relief program.

The committee leaders predicted will reduce the proposed WPA appropriation from the $1,500,000,000 suggested by President Roosevelt to $1,000,000,000 unless they are convinced that it is the minimum.

The new relief bill, providing for continuance of WPA for one year from July 1, will be linked with the administration proposal to continue PWA and permit the latter to use an unexpected balance of approximately 150,000,000.

A plan to order WPA to revise its work-relief plan so less will be spent for materials and overhead and more for actual worker's pay was being considered.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 22.—An investigation into wages and working conditions of highway department employes in Beaver county was asked today in a resolution sponsored by Rep. Peter P. Reising, D, Beaver.

Reising's resolution was prompted, he said, by the alleged dismissal of a Beaver county highway employe because of "union activities". He cited reports that a strike had resulted from the ouster two days ago.

Immediate consideration of the resolution was blocked by Rep. Herbert Cohen, York, Democratic house floor leader who said the highway department was conducting its own investigation.

The department said today an employe in Beaver county had been suspended by the superintendent there because his "services were not satisfactory" but denied that union activities entered into the situation. No report of a strike had been received here, the department added.

CONFERENCE IS SET FOR TODAY

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., April 22.—With the issue of C. I. O. recognition dropped, speedy progress toward settlement of the strike of 3,700 workers at the General Motors' Oshawa plant was expected to be made at a conference here today between representatives of the company and the strikers, under auspices of Premier Mitchell Hepburn.

Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, and Hugh Thompson, Canadian organizer for the C. I. O., agreed to stay away from Toronto and Oshawa during the negotiations although the U. A. W. voted financial assistance for the strikers.

J. L. Cohen, Toronto attorney for the U. A. W., and C. H. Millard, president of the union's Oshawa local, consented to represent the Oshawa workers and not the C. I. O.

The concessions were considered a sweeping victory for the company and for Premier Hepburn, who has strenuously opposed John L. Lewis' invasion of Canada.

Leftwitch was killed 15 minutes after he pumped four bullets into Hoffer from the second floor window of the home of "Big Jim" Jones, a Negro miner. Leftwitch, one of the five remaining fugitives, was cornered in the house after he routed the Jones family, threatening to wipe them out if they didn't give him food and money.

Leftwitch's death and the capture of Joseph Duboy left three prisoners yet at large. They were Duboy's brother, John; Mike Matini and John Gombar. Joseph Tarr, 35, had surrendered when persuaded to do so by his mother who feared he might be harmed if he attempted to evade police.

Strewing the streets with wreckage of buildings and automobiles and dead and dying men and women as well as animals, three, four and six inch shells landed over a wide area.

On one of Madrid's main squares I saw two dead women. Not far away was the headless body of a man. Three hundred yards farther down the street two dead horses were lying in front of an English dry goods store.

To the Public:

Trades & Labor Assembly delegates representing all AF of L & CIO Unions in Lawrence County unanimously endorsed this statement below at their regular meeting Tuesday, April 20th, 1937 and authorized publication.

Norman Freeborne, President.
John P. Brogan, Sec.-Treas.

On Saturday last, April 17 an advertisement appeared in your newspaper signed by the Machinist Union, local No. 166, which made a statement concerning May 1st, Labor Victory Celebration, that is entirely misleading. We, the undersigned members of the Executive Committee of the Labor Victory Celebration wish to inform the public that the celebration is just exactly what its title indicates—a Labor Victor Celebration. During recent months, due to the progressive labor legislation of the Federal and State Administration, due to the organizing efforts put forth by progressive labor leaders, also due to the splendid unity of progressive labor itself, tremendous gains, pertaining to collective bargaining in the recognition of unionsim, advances in the standard of living, forty hour week, etc., have been won by labor. All progressive labor organizations of Lawrence County desire to demonstrate their unity and solidarity by means of a day for celebrating those gains. May 1st was the day set aside by the conference held on April 10, last which was attended by delegates of 25 unions, fraternal and political groups. These organizations have enthusiastically entered into the spirit of the celebration. At the conference where plans were made and committees elected to carry out the resolutions of the conference, no particular union, fraternal society or political party predominated or rendered outstanding assistance. All progressive organizations of Lawrence County stand united.

CONSERVATION GROUP HEARS FINE PAPERS

Conservation department members of the Woman's club listened to two very instructive and interesting papers at the meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Fairfield avenue home of Mrs. C. F. McDowell.

These were given by Mrs. W. C. Mechem and Mrs. Walter DeArment, the former an authority on dahlias, telling of varieties, culture and answering many questions from the group; the latter spoke on International Good Will and Peace Gardens which have been planted within the past few years along the border between Canada and the United States.

As these gardens are a comparatively new venture sponsored by the governments of these countries, as well as others abroad, it is of further interest to those little acquainted with them to know that the tract of land on which they are planted comprises 900 acres lying in the United States and 1,300 acres in Canada.

They are located on a national highway and are being kept up by donations which augmenting the government sum.

After the program was concluded, tea was enjoyed in the dining room where Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, president of the Woman's club, presided. Lovely mixed flowers formed the centerpiece. Assistant hostesses serving were Mrs. B. H. Kannenberg, Mrs. R. G. Boak, Mrs. R. S. Tannehill and Mrs. L. W. Strayer.

In the absence of the department chairman, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, who is in Washington, D. C., this week, Mrs. Ray Horchler, vice chairman, presided yesterday. Among future activities discussed was a pilgrimage in the near future to the Pymatuning dam. Arrangements for this trip will be completed at a later date.

Mrs. Harry Sturdevant was welcomed as a new member of the Conservation group.

The May meeting is scheduled for the 19th, at the home of Mrs. W. K. Hugus, Highland avenue.

Leesburg Girl Married

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Coleman of Leesburg announce the marriage of their daughter, Ida Frances Elizabeth, to Maurice Huey Barner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barner, Mercer. The ceremony took place in New Cumberland, W. Va., April 10, and attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gill, of Mercer, the latter a sister of the bridegroom.

REVEAL ENGAGEMENT AT CLASS KID PARTY

The home of Miss Mary Natcher, Albert street, was the scene of a clever party Tuesday evening as members of the A. I. M. class of the First Baptist church enjoyed an evening of fun, attired as kids and enjoying kid games. Prizes during the evening were awarded to Dorothy Cooper, Helen Huhn, Margaret Barnes and Marjorie Pattison.

This is the first social function to which the teacher, Mrs. Mary Landis, has been able to attend, due to her being confined to her home because of illness, and the class welcomed her back.

A beautiful handkerchief shower was given to Miss Helen Huhn as a token of remembrance to her, as she expects to move to Brownsville, Pa., within a short time.

Later, attractive four-year-old Darlene Woodrow came into the room and in a charming way announced the engagement of her aunt, Miss Mary Natcher, to Wilbert Madison. Little Darlene then led the guests to the dining room where a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The table about which the guests gathered was attractively decorated. It was centered with a beautiful bouquet of roses, and pink and green streamers trailed from the chandelier to the lolly-pop dolls, serving as markers for the various places.

Special guests at the party included Mrs. R. J. Woodrow and daughter Darlene, Mrs. C. D. Natcher and Mrs. M. Minteer.

AFTERNOON BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB ENJOYED

New Castle Field Club women enjoyed a dessert-bridge party Wednesday afternoon in the club rooms, which was planned for their pleasure. Mrs. J. F. Perelman presided as hostess over the occasion, the serving of dessert being followed by a period of card playing.

Lovely awards were captured by Mrs. J. H. Gibson and Mrs. J. H. Schwartz for honors. The latter will be hostess at the next event of this nature to take place at the club, in two weeks.

Colonial Club

Colonial club members will meet on the corner of Jefferson and Washington streets, this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and then go to a local tea room for their regular meeting. Mrs. P. G. Marotti, of Cunningham avenue, will be hostess.

JEWISH SOCIETIES PLAN DANCE MAY 18

On May 18, Junior Council will join with the Junior Hadassah in giving the annual May dance at the New Castle Field Club. Both organizations are phylanthropic, and have National affiliations. Junior Council philanthropic work is local, and they maintain a scholarship fund.

A meeting of the dance committee is scheduled for the home of Miss Florence Safier, Hillcrest avenue, this evening. She is chairman for the Council with the entire club serving as aides, while Miss Minnie Levine is chairman for Hadassah. A special committee composed of Ina Rosenberg, Dorothy Levine, Sara Waldman, Esther Grossman, Ida Levin, and Irene Schiffman will assist.

Junior Hadassah has three projects in Palestine. First, is the Children's Village of Meier Shfeyah, where orphaned children receive training in farming, bee-raising, care of poultry and animals. They learn various household tasks and have regular school studies. A fine choral club and instrument orchestra have been established. Second-Pardees Anna village, where older children may become self supporting. Third-Henrietta Szold School of Nursing. Here girls receive training and when they are graduated, are permitted to go to all parts of the orient nursing patients of all faiths. This school is conected with the Rothchild hospital in Jerusalem. The German children refugees are cared for in these villages.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL SINGS FOR COUNCIL

Miss Marietta Norris Reynolds of Richmond Hill, Long Island New York, was soloist for the religious drama council of the Greater New York Federation of Churches, representing eight hundred churches, which was held last Tuesday evening at the Riverside church, New York city.

Miss Reynolds is contralto soloist at the Community Church of Great Neck, Long Island, and also at the Grace Episcopal church, Manhattan, during the summer months. She was one of the soloists at a recent concert given by The Amphion Society under the direction of Harry Gilbert at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, Manhattan.

Her parents are former well-known resident of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roberts Reynolds, (Eve Patterson, the grand-daughter of Mrs. Anna Reynolds, Mrs. W. A. Stritmater, Mrs. Margaret Reed and Mrs. Robert Hainer, all of Lincoln avenue.

Jewish Junior Council To Meet

Members of the Jewish Junior Council will hold their regular meeting this evening, in the home of Miss Florence Safier, Hillcrest avenue. Mrs. Gerald Zieve will be co-hostess.

The dance committee, representing the Junior Hadassah at the joint Junior Council-Junior Hadassah to be held at the New Castle Field Club on May 18 will be guests on this occasion.

Dietterles Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

Abundant sunshine was within the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dietterle, at 1619 East Washington street, Wednesday, even though the weather was rainy and stormy outside, for the day marked the golden wedding anniversary of the prominent couple fittingly celebrated.

Fragrant spring flowers in all the hues of yellow and gold combined with green ferns, formed a delightful setting for the reception in the afternoon from 2 to 5, and again in the evening from 7 to 9.

Around 150 guests attended, many of them from Butler, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Franklin, Millvale, Pa., as well as a majority from New Castle and nearby vicinity. In the number were Mrs. Anna Reichart of Pittsburgh, a sister of Mrs. Dietterle, and Miss Inca Grillon of Cincinnati, both house guests at the Dietterle home.

Centering the table from which a buffet lunch was served was a large wedding cake appropriate for the occasion, with slender golden tapers in crystal holders, on either side, and flowers.

Misses Anna M. Dietterle and Gertrude H. Dietterle received with their parents. Besides the two daughters, the couple have two sons, also well known in this vicinity. They are Andrew C. Dietterle of the Wilmington road, and Walter G. Dietterle of Edgewood avenue. There are five grandchildren.

Aides during the afternoon and evening, and at a buffet supper, which was served at 6 o'clock to about 25 members of the family and close relatives were Mrs. A. C. Dietterle, Mrs. Walter G. Dietterle, Mrs. Edward Kelly and Mrs. Sarah Markel.

Besides the pleasure derived from reminiscing, entertainment during the day was heightened with music, old time favorites, played by Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Misses Myrna and Mildred Kelly as a quartet, piano solos by Miss Leta Mae John, talented musician, and Ferdinand Frederick of Superior street, who rendered a tenor solo, accompanied by Miss John.

By the way, Mr. Frederick attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Dietterle a half century ago. This honor of being present at the golden wedding celebration was also shared by Mrs. Anna Reichart of Pittsburgh, the only sister of Mrs. Dietterle in this country, who was bridesmaid at the wedding April 21, 1887.

Mrs. Dietterle's maiden name was Anna Marie Heizman. She knew her husband when they were both children, having lived in neighboring villages in Germany. Many years later they renewed this early acquaintance in Pittsburgh, where they were later united in marriage by Rev. C. F. Meyer, pastor of the Millvale Lutheran church.

A few years afterwards, they came to New Castle and have resided here since. Both are prominent and active members yet of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

For over 40 years, Mr. Dietterle was engaged in the lumber business known as the New Castle Lumber and Construction company, and now that he is retired, the business is still being carried on by his two sons.

Many gifts were received yesterday, relatives and friends evidensing the high esteem in which the honored ones are held, by beautiful presents of a miscellaneous nature, together with a profusion of flowers, letters and cards of greeting.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY FOR VOLANT COUPLE

A Volant couple, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McConnell, were guests of honor on Sunday, April 18, when they received members of their family in the home of their daughter, Mrs. H. S. Vogan, 309 East Leasure avenue, this city, as a medium of celebrating their fortieth wedding anniversary.

An informal reception was held during the afternoon hours, when forty of the children, grand children and great grand children, joined in sharing festivities. At noon dinner was served to the immediate family. A social period spent informally featured the leisure hours that ensued.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell were the recipients of a number of lovely gifts, as further mementos of the memorable event.

N. K. CLUB HONORS MEMBER'S BIRTHRAY

Evelyn Barbour was honored by members of the N. K. club Wednesday evening, when they gathered in the home of Ella Faller, Patterson avenue for their regular session. Miss Barbour's birthday anniversary was the reason for the shower, and she received many lovely and useful gifts.

Games of various types, dancing and social chat, were the main diversions, making the evening very pleasant for the guests. Prizes for the lucky winners went to Evelyn Barbour and to Elizabeth Lewis.

An attractive color scheme of pink and white was uniquely worked out in the decorations at the dinner table where the guests gathered for a luncheon. Miss Faller was aided in serving by Mrs. Ruby Rote. Next meeting of the group will be in the home of Elizabeth Lewis, Bell avenue, on May 5.

MRS. DEAN HOSTESS TO 1923 S. L. CLUB

Mrs. Charles Dean was a most gracious hostess Wednesday evening to associates in the 1923 S. L. club whom she entertained in her home on East Washington St.

Several rounds of 500 provided entertainment with Mrs. Albert Brown and Mrs. Joseph Malloy winning the high score awards. Still another prize was presented to Mrs. M. Mulcahy, who with Mrs. M. J. Scanlon and Mrs. Gurst, was a special guest.

An attractive luncheon was served in the dining room where the table was centered with fragrant cut flowers.

In two weeks, the group will have a similar party in the home of Mrs. Joseph Malloy, Leasure avenue.

Girls' Recital Program

Again Wednesday evening, another large audience enjoyed the second recital program presented by piano and voice students of Albert A. Taylor in the East lodge room of the Cahedral.

This program was presented entirely by girl students.

The pianists taking part included: Alys McGrath, Betty Braun, Peggie Veach, Kathryn Mathiott, Freda Buchner, Betty Jane Blewitt, Cherie Weddell, Mary Ruth McKee, Joyce Alexander, Betty Jane Cummings, Carol Hawkins, Shirley Robson, Elaine Bollard, Joan Preston, Sophia Buchner and Jean Haug.

Pleasing were the two-piano number "Narcissus," played by Elaine Bollard and Joan Preston and the song-groups by vocal students. Norma Fishburn, accompanied by Elaine Bollard, sang two selections. Jane Taylor, with Sophia Buchner at the piano, sang a group of three solos.

Estella Haug, young soprano, sang among others, two of Mr. Taylor's compositions, "Mastery" and "Love's Why." She was accompanied by Jean Haug.

The concluding number of the program was the brilliant two-piano arrangement of Strauss' "Blue Danube Waltz," with Jean Haug and Sophia Buchner at the two pianos.

Dames Of Malta Kensington

At the invitation of Mrs. Ralph Thompson members of the Dames of Malta Kensington gathered in her home at 210 Smithfield street on Tuesday evening.

Bingo and cards provided the evening's entertainment with prizes being awarded to Mesdames Bevan, Barnsley, Gillespie and Walker. At the close of play a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the Misses Bessie Gray, Doris Bevan, Ethel Thompson and Goldie Gillespie, at a table centered with lovely spring flowers.

Miss Bevan was a special guest.

Unexpected Club

Unexpected club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schells on Ray street, recently for an informal evening.

Dancing, square and round was enjoyed with music furnished by Lloyd Clark and his Serenaders. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and Miss Shirley Wigley, who did a tap dance, Edward Park, the blues singer, sang a couple of songs as an extra treat.

Special guests were Mrs. R. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Stivers. Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Agnes Cochran.

Next meeting will be on April 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ketzel, Gilmore street.

NEED CENSUS OF JOBLESS

IN THE light of President Roosevelt's revised budget estimate for the 1938 fiscal year there is more reason than ever why the guessing contest as to the number of jobless in this country should end. There can be no sound basis of calculating relief needs until a census of the unemployed has been taken.

There is cause to believe that Senator Vandenberg greatly underestimates the number of jobless when he places the figure at 2,975,000. Yet there is no valid proof that the National Industrial Conference Board's computation of 8,914,000 is approximately correct. The alacrity with which Secretary of Labor Perkins and Dr. Isadore Lubin of the Bureau of Labor Statistics contested the Vandenberg figures—in the absence of any accurate unemployment estimates of their own— emphasizes the desirability of fundamental facts about the number of jobless.

The future of WPA, the status of relief in general, the prospects for reducing the unwieldy bureaucratic structure in Washington, the possibility of lowered taxation and the restoration of a sound national economy depend in large measure on complete, detailed and accurate knowledge of unemployment and the rate at which it is being lessened.

There was a time when the Administration appeared committed to an unemployment survey. Why has it not been made? Why, with new relief calculations occupying the center of interest, is nothing being done about a census of the jobless?

DEMOCRATIC "RIPPER" GHOSTS

Representative Turner, Republican house leader of the state legislature, aptly describes the series of state new deal "ripper" bills presented at this session as measures that will come back to "haunt the Democrats."

He refers to such proposals as that which removed the old public service commission and set up in its stead the public utility commission, the proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to say which county offices are constitutional, and the bill that would abolish the municipal court in Philadelphia.

The proposal which would have removed William N. McNair from office as mayor of Pittsburgh no doubt would have been considered again at the present session had it not been for McNair's successful scheme to remove himself.

Verily, it is a thorough job of house-cleaning the Democratic state machine is doing at Harrisburg. And, sad but true, this prediction of Representative Turner very probably will prove to be accurate:

"From the example set this year by you men of the Democratic majority, you can expect just as many reprisals by Republicans or whatever other party which might be in control in the future. x x x You have laid down precedents that will come back to haunt you in the future."—Meadville Tribune.

THESE "MODERN" HOMES

Many of us have thought we were going ahead pretty rapidly in this modernization of houses. But a young Jugo-slav architect who has done some notable modernistic work in this country thinks we are very slow.

"In spite of the large choice of building materials and the abundance of raw material supplies," he says, "the building of American homes has not advanced in line with the latest architectural ideas concerning modern homes.

"Gadgets have been added here and there, improvements can be noticed now and then, but no change has been made in certain fundamentals in building thoroughly modern and yet inexpensive homes in America. Take the windows, for instance. The modern gasoline station has more light than the home.

"The lines of the American home are too complicated. Inside the house there is too much of everything. The interiors are overdecorated. Simpler lines and fewer decorations would add tremendously to the looks and comfort of the new house.

"The average American is the greatest individualist on earth. Yet he pays heavy money for his home, which is built in most cases on a mass production basis, without allowing the owner to express his individual taste."

Maybe so. Most of us are not quite up to these novel ideas yet. Give us a little time. American homes have already changed more in the last ten years than in any previous period of our history. And it might just be that some of these new-fangled notions are not so good as the old ones. Who, for example, wants as much light in his home as in a gas station.

A NEW ONE FOR DEBATERS

The news from Tokio about the Imperial University graduate who many years later demanded return of his tuition fees because he had been a failure in life was intended to be read with a chuckle, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. There is a rich irony, a universal understandability in this plaint.

Does this unnamed Japanese validly blame his alma mater that he was not well coached in essentials of life success, including breadwinning? Can he legitimately berate the university for giving him to understand, by accepting him and his money, that he had potentialities of a happy existence if only he would submit to the school's training and social adjusting processes? If a man—as an analogy—pays an institution for a physical examination, learns he needs his liver put in shape, is assured that once this is fixed he will slay dragons valiantly, and after four years or twenty years has been unable even to wield a sword properly, can he justly protest?

A school has a ready retort; it can guarantee nothing, but merely tries to do the best it can with the material it gets. But anybody who gets tired of arguing about the Supreme Court or sit-downs might undertake this endless theme of conjecture.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HIGH VOICES IRRITABLE

Why do high-pitched, squeaky voices irritate us? Why do they annoy our children? You know, of course, they do. You also know that the average parent talks much louder, and in higher key, than is necessary. Her voice is highest, loudest when she is most tired and irritable. It is then that children grow most irritable, too, and talk loudest.

Could the average parent hear her own voice when she is talking to her children, she would be astonished. If she had to listen to it for 15 minutes, she would want to run away perhaps. But not on purpose does she speak so shrilly, loudly; Human Nature prompts her to do so; him, the dad, as well.

At the moment when we feel a little vexed, up our voices go. Woe then to them who have to listen to us. The average mother has so much to do, and must meet so many small and large annoyances, that she will often let go the keys that hold her voice. And these vexations may become so numerous that her voice will be highly pitched most of the time. Though she might not be aware of this malady, and her children might not notice it, they are irritated by it none the less.

Associate It With Displeasure

They, like us oldsters, have come to associate unconsciously, the loud and squeaky voice with displeasure. When anyone, therefore, good-natured or not, speaks in a loud, high-keyed voice, unhappy feelings are induced. A shrill, noisy voice stirs up anger or excitement in almost any human being. On the contrary, when our mother talked to us and cuddled us as babies, and when we saw her fondling other children; at the moments when she was dearest to us, or talked to us as comrades to her, or proved most sympathetic, her soft, sweet, gentle voice expressed her very soul.

Inevitably we, therefore, whether young or old, have come to associate a sweet, soft, mellow voice with happiness. To this voice we respond with pleasant feelings. On the other hand, when an ugly voice is heard, the unpleasant feelings which habitually had been connected with that kind of voice come up again.

Blessed is the home where only lovely voices can be heard.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A TREE BY ITSELF

I wandered through a valley in the spring of the year, when the orchards were soft clouds of white and pink and lovely to the eye and their breath was gloriously sweet.

And I blessed them as I passed and was thankful for the privilege of being in that place in the spring of the year, in the presence of that gentle army of blossoming trees.

But of all those blossoming trees I remember but one. . . . It stood alone in a little gully that cut deeply into the slope of a hill. It was far from the pruning shears, from the cultivator, from the spraying machine and had grown naturally by itself. So it had been twisted by the wind and had sent its branches out as it pleased, in irregular forms. . . . And for me it had more beauty than all the massed uniformity of its regimented brothers.

As I looked at this solitary tree I thought of men and women I have known who have no gift for sinking their individuality in the crowd but who live in some clean strong way by themselves. . . . They make their own decision. When they express an opinion, you know that it is their own, that it comes out of their own thought and experience. They are not aloof or selfish, but they are definitely themselves. So they are different and all the outlines of their personalities are sharp and clear and you cannot confuse them with anyone else you may know.

It is true, I know, that the solitary tree in the field has small commercial value. Its fruit, though sweet, may be small, and the worm and the scale may afflict and too large a proportion may be "culls". . . . So the individual man what stands alone may have convictions or opinions or prejudices that do not fit the daily conventional routine of his fellows. Thus the careless may pass him by with a shrug, dismissing him as an eccentric. . . . But the fruit of his nature may be sweeter than theirs and his life may be richer, as the solitary tree in the gully has a charm not revealed by the trees in the orchards.

The World At A Glance

World Will Relax Soon.
Vacation Season Is Nigh.
Seek Substitute For Strikes.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

THERE WILL be less tenseness this summer. Millions are going on vacation. In fact, never previously have so many millions planned for a vacation.

There will be less tenseness, truly enough.

But there will be less tendency to believe in alarums and cries to preserve our safety, our liberties, etc.

Nature has a manner of letting the daylight into the cobwebs with brilliant sunlight.

* * *

ANY RETREATS?

At this time of year, we gather folders and read of retreats for the weary.

But are there any quiet retreats remaining?

Communication has made the entire world one.

* * *

WE BEGIN TO SEE

We are beginning to see how interdependent we are. An overbought condition in commodities in England causes a drop in our commodity prices. (That was a severe drop the other day.)

Talk of peace in Spain brings an equal tumble.

War preparations throughout the world are a part of our present inflation—a grave and dangerous part.

A crop failure in the northwest, a shortage of cattle in the Argentine, a good cotton crop in Egypt, large gold production in Russia, currency stringency in France, can have serious effects in any part of the United States.

International economic conferences, as a road to peace, may be forced upon us. Otherwise, nations driven mad by economic difficulties, may set the world afire.

* * *

EASY ROAD TO WAR

War, at the moment, is the easy road. That is the unfortunate part of it.

Once an inflation has been spiraled by means of war expenditures—and that is what we have throughout the world—rulers would rather plunge into war than to cease those expenditures. Or, rather, they know if they halt that means of inflation, there will be a more immediate economic collapse. And an economic collapse would mean their ousting.

It is easier for the dictators to talk in heroic terms and send millions into war.

* * *

BUT—NO ALARUMS

But there, there, we have no desire to add to the present day's alarums.

The world needs less tension. Peoples of all nations should relax and ask: "Is it not foolish that we listen to leaders who urge us to jump at one another's throats? And isn't it even more foolish for us to listen to warnings when we cast off our chains—warnings that we are destroying our liberty when in fact we are gaining our liberty"

* * *

WHY STRIKES?

And, as we finish this, we read this in the Cleveland Press:

"Criticizing strikes as 'costly to both sides and the public,' Prof. William W. Dawson of Western Reserve university law school today told a City club audience that workers have no effective way to bargain.

"'We have announced the principle of collective bargaining,' he said, 'but the practical details of its operation have not been worked out.

"'In modern industry, the individual worker has found that his right to enter into a contract is meaningless. He can either take what is offered, look for another job, or go on relief.'

"Asserting that some substitute for strikes must be found, Professor Dawson predicted that it will only come after 'long periods of trial and error.'

"The damage that strikes have caused our nation cannot be estimated, any more than the total cost of war, he said. Although sit-down strikes are in his opinion now illegal, he foresees them attaining legal status because of the force of public opinion.

"'The law is never static. It cannot be, because life is not static. Whether we like sit-downs or not, we may expect them until we devise an effective substitute.'

"He described injunctions as outmoded."

GARDEN CONTAGION

I thought that I'd go out to see
Just what my neighbor was pursuing
And what each evening after tea
He kept himself so busy doing.
I'd seen his head above the fence
Since first the month of April started.
And wondered what of consequence
He went about so merry-hearted.

"What's up?" said I, and quickly he Arose to mutter: "Beg your pardon.
Your presence really startled me.
You see I'm working in the garden.
Just hop the fence." The which I did
And watched him work the while we chatted.
Trying to keep my wonder hid
As he some tender rootlet patted.

"You haven't dug your garden yet?"
"No, No," I said. "Would you advise it?
I know not phlox from mignonette."
"One never does until he tries it.
You'll come to it in time," said he.
"And learn to like it, just as I did.
If you get bothered, come to me.
I'll help you out when you've decided."

That year each evening after tea
I went when pleasant was the weather
To dig the ground the same as he.
And, oh, the fun we had together!
He taught me all the blossoms gay
And all his gardening lore imparted,
And that appears to be the way
That most of us get gardens started.

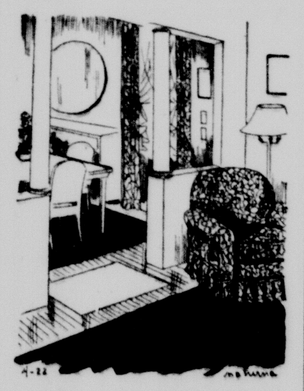
Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.



By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Is it necessary to have the dining room carry out the color scheme of the living room? R. F.

Answer—No. But if these rooms open into each other, it is well to have their decorations harmonize. The color scheme of one room is not successful if it clashes with that of the rooms that are seen with it, as the eye passes from one, through a door, to the other.

The wallpaper and rug need not exactly match those in your living room, but they must be complementary to those of the latter if the two rooms adjoin.

Dear Miss Markel—I want to buy a rag rug for my bedroom. What kind of draperies should I have to go with it? Miss E. P.

Answer—Rag rugs make very attractive floor coverings in bedrooms. They should be accompanied by furniture of simple design, such as Early American, and draperies of simple material, as cretonne or chintz—never by rich, heavy materials and formal furnishings.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A MILITANT ACTOR

Lewis Stone of the Movietones is a militant citizen. He believes that every man should have some military training.

With this in mind, he has organized a troop of seventy horsemen in and about Hollywood and these cavalrymen are to become a unit in the law enforcement machinery of the Sheriff's office of Los Angeles County, California.

Quietly and without fanfare, this Troop, known as "Los Angeles County Reserve" has gone through its routine of discipline for the past five years.

The idea for such an organization came to Stone after the tragic St. Francis Dam disaster, which wiped out many lives when that Dam went out. His men are ready to serve in major emergencies of any kind, except commercially.

The Troop drills once weekly, is self-sustaining and the men are dressed in attractive uniforms, and have complete army field equipment. During the Long Beach earthquake, two of the company's field kitchens were used to feed 1000 persons.

Vacancies In Troop Will Be Filled At Once

Recruits Enlisting Now Will Have Opportunity Of Attending Camp

STATE GUARD IS PROUD OF HISTORY

With the annual summer encampment of the Pennsylvania National Guard only a few months away, it is announced by Capt. George F. Seyffert, commander of Troop F., that there are several vacancies in the troop which are to be filled within the coming week.

Information regarding enlistment in the troop may be obtained by interview at the Armory in the Chevrolet Building on West Washington street. The Armory will be open on Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon, when those interested may apply for information relative to enlistment.

Many people are unaware of the history of the National Guard in Pennsylvania, which is a proud one. Information in this regard has been furnished through a member of the Troop Sponsoring Committee here as follows:

What It Is

The Pennsylvania National Guard is a State organization supervised and largely financed by the Federal Government. Its mission is threefold; first, to provide a trained military force capable of defense against invasion of the Commonwealth or Nation; second, to preserve the peace; and third, to render aid when disaster strikes. Officers are appointed and promoted, usually from the enlisted ranks, by the Governor subject to confirmation by the Federal Government. Soldiers are enlisted by these officers. Armories and many of the overhead expenses are provided by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Armory drill pay, field training pay with subsistence and quarters, and all equipment are provided by the Federal Government. Organizations drill one and one-half hours weekly at their local armories.

What It Has Done

The Pennsylvania National Guard is older than the Commonwealth and was first organized by Benjamin Franklin on November 21st, 1747, in Philadelphia. It was a volunteer organization of about eleven thousand officers and men, which is its approximate strength today, and was then called the Associators. Since then it has participated in every war of the United States, some part of it serving in the Federal forces for one out of every eight of the one hundred and eighty-nine years of its existence. In two of those wars it fought on Pennsylvania soil. In the World war it reaped its highest honors and the record in that war has established and assured the National Guard System a permanent place in the National Defense. It has rendered aid to the civil authorities of the Commonwealth in enforcing the laws, and in floods, fires and similar disasters. Six thousand members rendered aid in the 1936 floods and earned the admiration and respect of their fellow citizens in many communities.

What It Is Doing

The National Guard has an annual turnover of about one-third of its membership, "graduating" approximately four thousand men each year who will have fundamental training if called upon. The eleven thousand men in Pennsylvania preserve their individual military fitness and by training maintain their organizations at a high standard of efficiency prepared to serve the Commonwealth and their country in any emergency. Theirs is not a lip service subject to restrictions or modifications; they are the last reserve of the government against turmoil, invasion or disaster and they pledge complete obedience to that government.

Whom It Wants

The Pennsylvania National Guard wants to enlist four thousand men each year between the ages of eighteen and forty-five. They must be able-bodied citizens, of good character, and high school students or graduates are preferred. It is desirable that they reside in the vicinity of the organization for which they are enlisted and they will be physically examined before they are accepted for enlistment to assure the selection of men who can render combat service on a day's notice. The enlistment of persons having others dependent on them for support is discouraged. Aliens, insane persons and those who have been convicted of a felony or who have been imprisoned under sentence of a court in a reformatory, jail or penitentiary ARE PROHIBITED FROM ENLISTING.

What It Requires

The discipline of the Pennsylvania National Guard conforms to the system prescribed for the regular army and the training is such as to insure the maintainance of that discipline. The soldier is required to attend one drill each week and field training for fifteen days out of each year. He is occasionally expected to turn out one additional night or for a week-end at target practice. He is required to obey strictly and to execute promptly the lawful orders of the non-commissioned officers and commissioned officers senior to him. He is required to comply with the articles of war for the army of the United States which provide punishment for desertion, disobedience, fraudulent enlistment, absence without leave, disrespect to or assaulting his superior non-commissioned or commissioned officer. In addition he obeys all the laws applying to the civil population.

Benefits To Soldier

The soldier receives his uniform and equipment without charge; he is paid a minimum of $1.00 for each armory drill up to forty-eight drills for the year and for each of the fifteen days in field training or active service of the commonwealth, he receives a minimum of $1.50 in addition to food, quarters, and necessary transportation. If called or ordered into federal service his pay will be the same as for the regular army. If he adapts himself readily and applies his intelligence he will improve his prospect of promotion. Each year a number of enlisted men are detailed with their own consent for active duty with the regular army to attend special service schools where they receive instruction on military subjects. Nearly all of the officers of the Pennsylvania National Guard started their military careers as enlisted men and earned promotions in fair competition. If the soldier is young enough he is eligible to enter a competitive mental examination for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. If he is injured at armory drill or field training camp his bills and compensation are paid by the state or federal governments. The soldier receives periodical physical examinations and his military training improves his physical condition. He is taught how to walk, ride, shoot and think straight. He is trained to respect authority and when placed in a position of responsibility he is taught to administer authority with due observance for the rights of others. Military training will give him a standing of a man unafraid among men.

Local Organization

The unit of the National Guard located in New Castle is Troop F, 103rd Cavalry. It is one of the component parts of the 52nd Cavalry Brigade which, in addition to the 28th Infantry Division, is located entirely in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The 52nd Cavalry Brigade is among special troops which are known as army troops. The normal peace-time strength of Troop F is 65 men and three officers. The troop is provided, by the federal government, with 32 horses which are normally kept here. During the 15-day field training camp additional horses are provided so that the entire troop may be furnished with mounts. A new armory is being built for the troop on a site at the eastern edge of the city overlooking Cascade Park. This armory will consist of three units, an administration unit, stables and a riding hall, all making one building. Among other features in the administration unit will be a large recreation room for the enlisted men, locker rooms and showers, a large mess hall and an indoor rifle range. It is expected that work will be resumed upon this armory within the next few weeks.

State Has Unexpended Sum In Federal Relief Funds April 1

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Pennsylvania on the first of April had an unexpended balance of $53,225,927 in Federal relief funds, according to a report sent to congress this week by President Roosevelt.

Up to that date, the president had allocated to Pennsylvanina $523,282,369 from the emergency relief acts of 1935 and 1936. Of this amount, $507,964,760 had been obligated and $470,056,442 had been actually spent. This left unobligated and unexpended balances of $15,317,609 and $53,225,927, respectively.

Of the obligations in Pennsylvania, the great bulk had been by the WPA. This agency had obligated $312,264,225 in the state. The PWA and Emergency Relief Administrations had obligated $15,271,495 and $98,831,621, respectively.

Other obligations in the Keystone State, according to agency or use, were recorded as: Agriculture Department, exclusive of public roads, $2,980,750; public roads, $24,326,092; Resettlement Administration, $3,107,356; Army Engineers, $4,834,287; CCC, $31,656,500; and Labor Department, $14,692,431.

Fat Girls Get The Go-By—Slim Girls Win Men

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures, without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland. It is the duty of this tiny gland to make about one drop and a half every day of a vital fluid. This helps the body "burn" up food and excess fatty tissues just as a good draft of air helps the furnace to burn up coal without forming "clinkers". If this little gland doesn't make this drop and a half of fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat.

Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking.

So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

School Biology Department Displays Many Attractive And Interesting Articles

Coming under the head of Biology Department, is a miscellaneous conglomeration of the products of Mother Nature, grouped in the laboratory room of this department in the Union high school building. Everything from snakes to guinea pigs has been contributed to this department by the pupils.

At the present time, one of the most interesting displays which is attracting attention, is a number of frog eggs in various stages of development. These eggs, clothed in their film of protective jelly, are in a number of water pans. They will be permitted to remain here, the students watching the development of life, until they hatch. When the egg hatches it is in the form of a small tadpole, which forces its way through the jelly covering until it reaches the surface of the water. Some of the eggs have reached the stage where the small tadpoles are hatched and are trying to find their way through the jelly.

Another exhibit of especial interest is a living black snake. This snake measures about four feet in length and was brought to the school by one of the pupils. In another glass case is a growing Pitcher plant. This plant has for a companion a live garter snake. At the present time this plant is being cared for in a special manner in order that a bloom may be secured from the plant.

In another section of the department of science, the students have used their ingenuity in such a way that they have made a common bottle cork into an electric motor, which incidently, really runs. Still picture taking and developing is also in the routine of the department, the pupils learning all the details regarding this art.

A great welcome is being planned by the students for our little feathered friends when they wend their way back from the south within a few weeks. About a score of attractive bird houses, all built by the students, are arranged about the room. The natural nests of the birds, which were built last season are also on display, these being abandoned by the birds at the start of winter were found and brought to the school.

Animal teeth, stones, flint, arrow heads, wood, leaves, soil, and many other oddities of nature may be found in this Union department. Another interesting item on display is a side view of a flying ant home. Through the glass walls of the home, one may view the many tunnels through which the animals daily pass.

This department of the school is planning a very interesting exhibit for the school department exhibit which is planned for April 29, in the school on Scotland Lane.

You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Ralph Maxwell, who has been confined to his home for several weeks, remains about the same.

Mrs. Grubbs and daughter of Youngstown were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stevenson.

The condition of Edwin Foster, who sustained injuries in an auto accident which occurred on Saturday, remians about the same.

Miss Mary Shoaff, Mrs. Herbert Wallace and Mrs. Edwin Goodman were in attendance at a shower given in honor of Mr and Mrs. Harold Knauff, a recent bride and groom, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knauff at Mercer.

One of the richest gifts of its kind in modern times has been bestowed on Canterbury Cathedral by Mrs. Robinson-Harrison of Cumberland, England. It is a casket consisting of the biggest piece of platinum ever worked, adorned with the first figures ever cast in this precious metal, and with rare diamonds studding its side.

Correct this sentence: "But I have almost a degree of fever," wailed daughter, "and I'm afraid to go to the dance."

More Adjustments On WPA Projects

Executives of the Works Progress Administration are pondering these days over the best way to conform to the recent ruling of the state and federal authorities that not more than 5 per cent of the projects personnel shall be scaled at more than the security wage.

Order Of Smiths Is Still Growing

Universal Order Of Fred Smiths Has Become Nationwide Organization

NEWSPAPER MEN ARE NOT BRANDED

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Universal Order of Fred Smiths continues to grow. There are, for instance, more than 50 Fred Smiths in the metropolitan area, none of whom had ever seen the other until on sudden inspiration they got together and held a mammoth banquet this winter.

O. O. McIntyre

The order started this wise. One morning Fred Smith, an ex-Troy, O., advertising man, picked three Fred Smiths at random out of the phone book, called them and asked if they'd join him at the Commodore for lunch. All came and thus so simply was the idea launched.

Then came the national roundup for a banquet. The Fred Smiths range from a filling station attendant to headmaster of an exclusive boys' school in New England. And since the banquet for 50 in New York, the country-wide membership is one thousand and expanding weekly.

The Smythes and the Schmitzes are barred, but there was a notable exception at the banquet. He was Smith Frederick, who backed into the banquet hall, ate out of his lap with his back to the table and did everything backwards. Next to the Fred Smiths the John Joneses are in profusion.

I just wangled a giggle via the radio. An accordion player referred to his his instrument as a "stomach Steinway".

John Chapman, the most searching of the columnists, recently dug up some interesting data about Mansfield Hall, the last of the all-theatrical hotels in the 40's. For years it was the rendezvous of troupers but today is about 50 percent commercial. Among the now famous who lived there during their coffee and cake days were Lee Tracy, Bobbie Arnst, Martha Raye, Ray Bolger and Any Sennella. Mansfield Hall was also a stamping ground for midgets in the vaudeville days.

In fact, one of the managers of Mansfield Hall is of The Little People. In the touring days there used to be an average of 50 Lilliputians appearing in the metropolitan area constantly during the season. They are, hotel men say, most satisfactory guests. Not only scrupulously neat in their rooms but are invariably orderly, well-behaved, non-complaining and pay their bills with punctuality. It has been rough sledding for most of them with the collapse of their chief vocation, the stage, in the past few years both here and abroad. There is no record of a midget begging on the streets in the metropolis. And seldom are they involved in lawlessness.

It is one of the newspaper shop legends that after one works for a score of years in the journalistic trade he is instantly marked by the indefinable brand of his calling. Yet I do not believe any endeavor leaves such little impress. Among long established newspapermen I know there are those who look like actors, chorus men, bankers, artists, small shopkeepers and even gangsters. And I have never known a person who upon wanting to see some newspaperman and having him pointed out was not surprised. Always a different sort of person from what was expected. Except Lucius Beebe, of course. One expects to see a fashion plate and does.

Battery Park, overlooking the harbor, always has its scatter of leather-complexioned, squinty-eyed men Who Look Out to Sea. No matter how cold the wind blows they are on the benches watching the gulls rise, drift and wheel and the tiny dots that become first bright funnels and then gradually full-sized ships nearing port. They are the seamen who through economic conditions are no longer able to breast the waves.

The annual dog show in New York illustrates the trend of the metropolitan mind toward the pedigreed pooch. For three days each winter it brings an audience that pays $30,000 daily at $2 a head to see the benched bow-wows in Madison Square Garden. The limousine display at night of arrivals is the finest to be seen, exceeding that of opening night at the Metropolitan opera.

Thingumabobs: Toscanini is returning to America for a tour because of homesickness...Bruce Barton divides his time between New York and Phoenix, Arizona, where his daughter is making a remarkable comeback from an accident injury....The first Mrs. Jimmy Walker plans to open a perfume shop in Miami....Grover Whalen has the fattest distillery executive job—$90,000 a year....The Sidney R. Kents are on a tour of Australia.

A beplumed flunkey at one of the avenue hotel entrances rushed to an arriving taxi. A stewed fare stepped out, squinted at the splendor of the uniform and got back in the cab mumbling: "Trash trouble with this world, getting too pretty."

(Copyright 1937, McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

Evidently we can't have a managed country. Some group would be sure to threaten bloodshed and scare the government.

RIECK'S is the Sealtest ice cream

And what is a "Sealtest" ice cream? It is ice cream whose purity and quality must meet the exacting requirements of some of America's leading food scientists. Its flavor must be approved by some of the nation's foremost ice cream experts.

You have read in the magazines, you have heard over the radio, about the great Sealtest System of Laboratory Protection, whose aim is to improve the quality and safeguard the purity of ice cream and other dairy products. Now taste what Sealtest means to you—in a more tempting, more delicate textured ice cream.

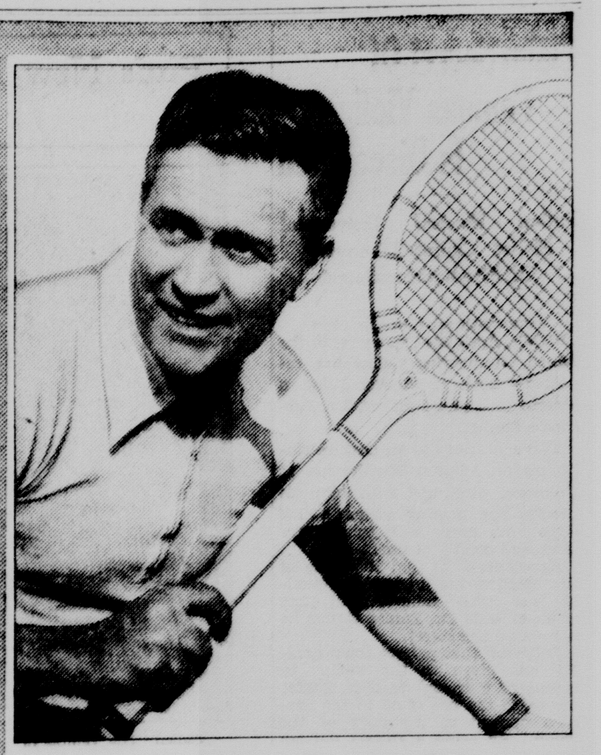
TASTE BUTTER PECAN, THE Sealtest "FLAVOR OF THE MONTH"



SOME MEN "SLOW DOWN" AT 40 -others drink milk

Energy that is used up must be replaced, or you slow down, and look and feel old. A glass of milk, three times a day, gives you concentrated nourishment and energy in the most digestible form.

Take a glass of milk for breakfast. It's a great eye-opener and pepper-upper. A glass at noon is a pick-me-up that never lets you down. At bedtime, drink a glassful (warmed just enough to take off the chill). It's a soothing nightcap.

Telephone now for a daily delivery of Rieck's Sealtest Milk. Call New Castle 2500, order from your Rieck's milkman, or ask at your favorite store.

Claim Secret Of Famous Violins Is Discovered

Italian Musical Instrument Makes Claims Discovery Of Stradivarius Secret

(International News Service)

ROME, April 22—The secret of the famed stradivarius violins has reportedly been re-discovered by a Trieste instrument maker, Dr. Ferruccio Zanier.

Two centuries ago an obscure violin maker, Antonio Stradivarius, of Cremona, died, and with him his process for making violins which since have never been equaled for pitch and quality of tone.

Experiments to find the basis of the Stradivarius process continually met with failure, until after years of tests Dr. Zanier claims he has found the secret.

Believing that perfect tonal quality was given to the violins by means of a special varnish, Zanier discarded the use of oil in the varnish applied to the body of the violin. By using a special Persian gum, commonly known as ammoniac rubber, he obtained a paint which is believed identical to that used by the Cremonese violin maker.

Zanier's studies led him to believe that Stradivarius was not the first to make use of this varnish to soften the tone, but a certain Gaspare da Salo.

Da Salo first used a varnish merely to protect the wood of the instrument and only after prolonged use of paint for this purpose became aware that the varnish had a double scope — protection of the wood and softening of the tone.

Stradivarius following da Salo's experiments developed the use of paint only for softening and modulating the tone. After many years of work he finally succeeded in producing a varnish which was unique in this respect.

FOOD SAMPLER GAINS WEIGHT

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.— All his working hours are lunch hours for Fred D. Schwarzkopf, city clerk and president of the Board of Public Purchases.

Previous to the awarding of contracts by the board for thousands of dollars worth of foodstuffs, it is the task of Schwarzkopf to taste samples.

During one of his rounds, the short space of one hour found him sipping the contents of several cans of tomatoes, sugar, canned corn, several kinds of bread, and peanut butter.

During the three year period he has held this office, Schwarzkopf has gained 20 pounds.

Toledo Reports Revival Of Chain Letter Scheme

Chain Letter Idea Without Any Letters Reappears In Ohio Town Is Report

(International News Service)

TOLEDO — The chain letter scheme, without any letters, has reappeared here.

Operating on a "club" basis, backers of the scheme are doing a rush business, and city authorities promised a speed investigation to prevent the number of victims which resulted from the craze of two years ago.

To join the club, a fee of 85 cents must be paid, "to cover registration and incidental expenses," one of the operators explained. The applicants name is then placed at the bottom of a list of six names, and he is instructed to obtain two new members.

When his name has been advanced to fourth place, he must pay $2.50. From that point the scheme operates on the usual chain plan. Operators claim that if the chain is unbroken, a total of $320 will be gained from the investment of $2.50.

Detective Inspector Joseph Fruchey, acting chief, said he would ask the city law department to conduct an investigation.

"If there is any evidence of illegal transactions, arrests will follow" he declared.

Coronation Band Includes 2 Women

(International News Service)

LONDON—American radio fans who listen to the broadcast of the coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth May 12 will enjoy a much better musical program than the actual participants did at the time of King George V's coronation in 1911.

Installation of a new hundred thousand dollar organ in the abbey has enabled the authorities to draw up a much more comprehensive musical program than at the last coronation.

The old abbey organ, built 206 years, completely collapsed early last year.

Delegates From 21 Unions Present As Formal Action Is Taken

At a meeting of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly, a resolution was adopted this week calling for a "hands off" policy in the A. F. of L.-C. I. O. controversy until such time as the American Federation of Labor definitely takes action to expel the C. I. O. affiliates or some other concrete action is taken completely severing relations between the two bodies, Secretary John P. Brogan of the assembly announced today.

There were 21 different local unions represented by the delegates present when the resolution was passed, it is stated.

Plans were also made for the assistance of this body in the labor celebration to be held in New Castle on Saturday, May 1.

ROBINS "Better Furniture For Less"

AROUND CITY HALL

Although it may sound peculiar, the fact remains that, with each heavy rainfall or snowstorm fire bells usually clang. When rain fell copiously yesterday morning fire laddies were summoned to the Croton district to extinguish a fire in an automobile. However, they were not the only city force who worked in the rain. Traffic police were also pelted and returned "soaking wet" to the police station.

Owen Fox, city forester, has started work on the city public square. It is hoped that pedestrians will keep off the grass this summer.

When announcement was made that the Pennsylvania Power Company had taken over the Rosena site, many believed this would mean good-bye to circuses showing there and also athletics. This has not proved the case so far. They will show on the site until construction starts. Space will be retained for a baseball field, it has been reported.

Ray Showalter, chief of detectives, rarely has unoccupied time on his hands. When he is not busy directing the other detectives or engaged in the solving of crime, he is busy with records of persons arrested here and elsewhere. He has changed the system of record keeping at the bureau. In addition to this he takes fingerprints and photographs.

Miss Marolyn Dearing, fashion expert for the Simplicity League of Amateur Designers of New York City, is a special guest in New Castle for two days, Friday and Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at New Castle Dry Goods Co.

Miss Dearing comes with full information on how every woman may dress properly to enhance her charm and develop her personality through her clothes.

She tells how one may have one's needs analyzed for correctness; how to cultivate originality and acquire smartness in the proper color combinations that emphasize one's good points and subdue failings.

"If you are small, short, medium, tall or stout, you are shown how the entire appearance of a costume may flatter your figure and give rhythm and proportion to your general make-up.

Every woman wants to improve her appearance and develop her personality, but, not being fashion specialists, few know how to go about it. All of this is brought out in the first day lecture by Miss Dearling."

Revs. Whetzell And Rowe Will Be At Nazarene Assembly In Early May

Two former pastors of the New Castle Nazarene church, Rev. Chas. Whetsell and Rev. G. H. Rowe are planning to attend the District Assembly in the Cathedral May 4 to 9. Rev. Over 1000 persons are expected to attend from out of the city, according to estimates of Rev. Lehman, local pastor. Stamp Notes

Holland is also having a Boy Scout Jamboree celebration in that country during 1937. Reports from the postal department show that a special commemorative set of stamps will be issued to mark this anniversary.

Recent stamps issued for the Philippine Islands bear the inscription: "United States of America, Commonwealth of the Philippines". Other stamps for this territory bear only the surcharge, "Commonwealth". These islands are very anxious that the United States give them their freedom before the ten-year period ends, and if this is done, the present stamps of the island will rise in value.

May 12 will be the 25th anniversary of the reign of King Christian of Denmark and a special issue of four or six stamps has been planned to commemorate the occasion.

Little Iceland will issue a set of stamps at the same time as the above, and for the same occasion. This latter set will be of three values, all to appear for the first time on May 12.

A set of stamps bearing the portrait of King George VI and scenes about the islands will be issued in the very near future. This issue will include five different denominations and will bear a total value of $9.63 in United States coin.

MONEY AND WATCH MISSING FROM ROOM

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—Believed to have been victim of a brutal bedroom attack by a robber, pretty Ruth Horowitz, 20, University of Pittsburgh co-ed and daughter of a rabbi, was in a critical condition in a hospital here today. She has been unable to tell what happened.

Blood streaming from her head, she staggered from her room and told her mother, Mrs. Louis Horowitz, "my head hurts." At the hospital later, Dr. Louis M. Kochin said her skull had been fractured by a "violent" blow. A claw hammer was found on the floor in her bedroom and city detectives expressed belief this may have been used during an attack.

Money And Watch Gone

In a half-coherent manner, the popular young co-ed said her money and wrist watch were "lost." Police said they found fingerprint smudges on the sill of a kitchen window, apparently left open by the prowler, and Miss Horowitz' purse, empty on the floor—about $1 in change and the watch missing.

At the hospital, Dr. Kochin expressed fears that she may not recover. Her scalp was torn and she had bled profusely, he said. Questioned what had happened, she repeatedly replied:

"I don't know. I don't remember."

Members of the household reported to police they heard no outcries during the night and were unaware anything had happened until the girl staggered into her mother's room.

Miss Horowitz, a senior at Pitt, held a high academic rating in her studies and was a popular figure on the campus.

HOGS CAN BITE

(International News Service)

HARRODSBURG, Ky.—The moral of this story is: Hogs do bite, especially when you molest their youngsters. Willie Mershon, of near Salvisa, was attacked by a hog while he was attempting to separate it from young pigs. Mershon won out, but suffered a badly torn hand when the hog bit him.

Mercer Fugitive Taken In Sharon

SHARON, Pa., April 22.—Joseph Collier, 23, of Penn avenue, who escaped from the county jail at Mercer, March 24, was arrested yesterday when police found him asleep in a truck which he stole in Greenville, according to his confession to Captain Paul R. Shaffer and Detective Walter Snider.

He also confessed that he stole a calf from the farm of Frank Cross near Masury and sold the animal in Youngstown, O.

As a result of this move, he will face a federal charge of transporting a stolen motor vehicle to another state.

Dog Saves Life Of Young Girl

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 22.—"King", a pet dog, today had repaid its "life-saving" debt to its youthful master, Lorraine Ellwood, 7.

She adopted the animal when its former owner decided to kill it. Yesterday when the covering on a bed on which she was sleeping caught fire, "King" made such a racket with his barking that he awakened Mrs. Clarence Ellwood, the child's mother, who grabbed Lorraine from the blazing bed. She suffered only slight burns.

When the death of two men can save the lives of millions, the obvious duty of Europe is to arrange a double hanging.

Young Democrats Will Join Labor In May 1 March

Action Is Voted Last Night; Plans For Celebration Develop

The Young Democrats of Lawrence county will march with labor in the May 1 Labor Victory celebration in New Castle. This was voted on unanimously last night at a meeting in City Hall when Harry Davies and Harry Mehlman addressed the Young Democrats in behalf of the Labor Victory Celebration committee.

Other organizations that have announced plans to march in a body in the parade are the following: Trades and Labor Assembly of Lawrence County, the Worker's Alliance of New Castle and also of Ellwood City, the Amalgamated lodges of the steel workers, including the Shenango mill, New Castle mill, Blair Strip Steel, American Can Co., and the National Tube of Ellwood City also the International Workers' Order, Amalgamted Clothing Workers of the National Pants Co., Railway Clerks of the B. and O. railroad and many others.

It is expected that the Machanist local No. 166, will reverse its former stand and will parade on May 1 with the other labor organizations. This was announced by Norman Freeborne, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly, who informed the committee that efforts will be made to have a special meeting of the machinists to reconsider their vote "since it is evident their decision was made on the basis of a misunderstanding on the part of the membership of the nature of the Labor Victory parade."

Steel workers and workers of all trades will complete their day's jubilation with a dance at the Cathedral on May 1, starting at 9 p. m. Harry Hammond and his Keystone Serenaders will furnish the music. Earlier in the evening, the WPA band will give a concert as part of the celebration program. The concert will start about 7 p. m., when the marchers arrive from the Central fire station, the starting point of the parade.

Final plans for the parade will be worked out Saturday, April 24, at 2 p. m. at the Trades and Labor Assembly Hall, Wallace building.

Cobau Delivers Opinion To Council

Proposes Tax Be Adjusted On Fire Swept Buildings Later

City Solicitor William D. Cobau this morning at council meeting presented an opinion to council relative to the request of Walter Harlan and the Graham heirs to revise taxes for 1937 on the buildings ruined by fire recently.

Cobau suggested that council have the property owners pay the tax on the ground and that at the end of the year the city and owners could reach an agreement as to what adjustment on the buildings should be made.

Notification to this effect will be sent to the city treasurer and school board, according to Councilman Fink's motion which passed.

The property owners had asked for a four months exoneration. Cobau did not believe this could be done at this time.

WILL NOT PROVE EXTRA HAZARD

Council during its meeting at the city hall today instructed Lee Pagni, 302 East Division street, to submit a petition to their body requesting permission to construct a room above a kitchen to a frame building.

They took this step because on an investigation by Fire Chief Richard McIlwain the latter said construction of the room would not increase the fire hazard.

Noted Here And There In Other Newspapers

A weary little female robin at Painesville, O., today began its 13th day of battle with its reflection in the window of the J. D. Thompson home. The bird has flung itself against its imagine in the pane, clawing and pecking, for nearly two weeks, pausing only for worms and nightfall.

The initiative of 10-year-old Robert Martin of Knoxdale probably saved the lives of 11 Brookville men when he waved down a Pittsburgh and Shawmut work train and prevented it from running into a rock slide. The train was enroute to McWilliams when Engineer L. C. Satterly sighted the boy waving his arm and in back of him a pole with a red cloth attached, propped over the rails. The boy received a letter from the general superintendent commending his action.

Magistrate A. D. Brandon at Pittsburgh saw 12 persons, seven men and five women, standing in the ante-room of morals court. Believing them members of a social workers' group he invited them to be his personal guests in court and seated them with him behind the bench to hear the day's proceedings. All went well, the magistrate chatting pleasantly with his visitors, until the first case was called. One of the judge's male guests stepped from the group and went to the bar. Another name was called. A woman guest followed the man. One by one, to Judge Brandon's embarrassment, his 12 "guests" marched to the bar. Somewhat flustered, he explained that he had no idea they were defendants arrested in a raid on an East End house.

Death and destruction have pursued Mrs. Carrie W. Bebout, formerly of Leechburg, Pa., across half a continent and in little more than a year have taken her husband, two of her children and destroyed two homes. The Bebout family led a normal life until the floods swept down the Kiski valley on the night of March 17, 1936. Charles W. Bebout, 54, the husband and father, died of pneumonia and shock when his home was destroyed by the deluge. Mrs. Bebout prepared to make a living for her children, Charlotta, 17, Charles, 15, George, 13 and Dorcas, 8. She took them to Louisville, Ky., only to have their new home swept away by the flood of 1937. Seemingly guided by the finger of the Grim Reaper, the woman and her children set out for the tiny rural Texas community of New London—the town that was to splotch black headlines across the front pages of every paper in America with news of the greatest school disaster ever to be recorded. All four of the Bebout children were enrolled in the school. The two boys were killed in the blast.

INTEREST GROWS IN BASEBALL AS SHOWN BY CROWDS

Never In History Of Game Has Interest Been Any Greater Than This Year

Ford Frick, National League President, Says "Bob" Feller Has Been Good Influence

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 22.—With a fair break from the weather man, and with reasonably close races in prospect, the current baseball season seems sure to smash all previous attendance records in every league in the United States.

The opening of the International league in Jersey City today will see the greatest turnout of fans in the history of the circuit. Approximately 40,000 will click the turnstiles of what is undoubtedly the finest minor league plant in the country to see the farm hands of the New York Giants in action.

Jackson As Manager.

This is more than double the all-time record crowd of 19,304 which saw Jersey City tangle with Newark in the latter's park Sept. 6, 1931.

Of course, there are extraordinary circumstances adding to the lure of today's opening. For one thing, everybody wants to see Travis Jackson, former captain of the Giants, in his new role as manager.

Then, too, the Jersey City fans have been starved for league ball in the years the franchise was transferred to Albany.

And last, but by no means least, must be considered the salesmanship of Mayor Frank Hague, who handed 500 of his committeemen each 10 tickets to sell, gave 18 ward leaders 500 apiece to distribute among storekeepers and put five tickets in every grog shop in the city.

Interest Increasing.

Strangely enough, the mayor didn't have to put on any political pressure—his henchmen and the fans begged for more. Hence, the sure sell-out.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, who keeps a tight finger on the National league pulse, says that never in history was such a widespread burning interest in the game, nor has there ever been so many uniformed non-professional teams in action.

Feller Influence.

Frick attributes this to two main factors, to wit: The increased prosperity of the country and the glamour of new names such as young Bob Feller of the Indians.

"Nobody not in close contact with the game," says Frick, "can realize the impetus that young Feller has given to baesball. From all over the country come reports that the youngsters are trying to be pitchers instead of second Babe Ruths as they were a few years ago.

"And as long as the game holds the interest and stirs the imagination of the American boy, baseball has nothing to worry about.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILI BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22.—That loud and raucous laugh you heard the other night was by Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker of Madison Square Garden . . . Remember when Max Baer came east to fight Bob Pastor a couple of months ago . . . and then ran out on his contract with the Garden so he could go to England and cut a few soft touches? . . . Well, in Mr. Baer's first bout in England, he was dusted off by a gent named Tommy Farr . . . Max seems to be a bit plate-shy since being beaned by the Brown Bomber.

Here's a thought: Will the Giants perform as well with Bill Terry on the bench as they did with him on first base? . . . sometimes a team misses the presence of its leader on the playing field . . . the Indians were a great ball club years back when Tris Speaker was playing in center field . . . but as soon as Tris took to the bench, they folded . . . the Yankees without Tony Lazzeri wouldn't be half as hot as they are with the smart little second baseman in there stopping mistakes before they happen, counseling pitchers, advising his mates where to play for such and such a hitter, or at a certain time . . . Bill Terry played nearly half of the games last year with the Giants . . . and when he was playing, the team won . . . he was on first during that streak of victories which clinched the pennant in the last few days of the campaign.

The great Notre Dame line of 1930 will play together again May 1 at South Bend . . . that is, all but Johnny O'Brien, left end, who was killed in an automobile crash in March . . . the game will be a memorial to O'Brien . . . Bert Metzger will play at one of the guards, Kassis at the other . . . Paul Host, who was an understudy to O'Brien and later captain of the team, will take Johnny's post at end, and Tom Conley, who later became captain, will play the other end . . . Tommy Yarr will be at center, Kurth at tackle.

Not bad, Bob Feller paying his own salary in one exhibition game in New York . . . Cleveland's share of that Sunday game with the Giants was $10,000 . . . which was exactly the amount Baffling Bob signed to pitch for in 1937. . . . Not a bad break for Tom Henrich, being declared a free agent, and signing a Yankee contract for $25,000 when he faced a season at Milwaukee before he decided to inquire what it was all about . . . as soon as Joe Di Maggio recovers from an operation for removal of tonsils, Tom probably will be bustled off to another minor league club . . . but he's still 25 grand ahead.

The Nashville club has a brother pitching act . . . Clyde and Claude Fields . . . which recalls that the same team sent a brother act to the major league mounds years ago . . . Claude and Clarence Janard . . . and the Jonnards were good . . . Dominic Dallesandro, diminutive Italian playing in the Red Sox outfield, is nicknamed Baron, and is one of 10 children. . . . Westchester Country club of New York claims the largest membership in the United States, with 1,750 golfers enrolled . . . The Yankees seem to have picked up a pretty good relief pitcher in Frank Makosky.

One of the reasons for those fat batting averages in the Pacific Coast league year after year is the poor quality of pitching . . . this year only one of a dozen pitching prospects sent up from the Pacific seems to have the stuff that will keep him up after June . . . that one is George Jasper Caster, whom Connie Mack plans to use as a starting pitcher.

Everett Scott Tenpin Bowler

Former Big League Baseball Star Is Now One Of Best "Keglers" In Country

By GLEN AIRCHARD
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 22.—Everett Scott of Fort Wayne, Ind., one of baseball's most popular players of a decade ago and today one of the country's best pinsters, is the outstanding figure in the American Bowling Congress tournament event here tonight.

Scotty, who broke in at Boston in company with George Herman Ruth and who came to New York Yanks the same time the Babe did, will be given the moral support of his old team mates tonight for the Bambino is to be at the bowling "ringside" behind the Grace Construction Company team, of which Scott is captain.

One Of Best

As captain of the Yankees Scott enjoyed some world's championship tastes and when he moved over to the Washington Senators he again nibbled on a titular cake. He has high hopes of piloting his ten-pin team to the same kind of glory tonight.

Since going to Chicago and then to Cincinnati, Scott has conducted bowling alleys in Fort Wayne and has developed into one of the nation's leaders. In his last five years of national tournament competition he has hung up two all-events of 1950.

His team and several other star outfits from Fort Wayne are on the bills tonight but they will find the going no tougher as a result of last night's pastiming for the best mark recorded was 2890 by Fisher Body of North Tarrytown, N. Y. The Hempstead Recreation, runner-up in Indianopolis last year, hit 2802.

The far east and far west shared honors in the matinee events, Walter Reid of Tacoma, Wash., hitting a 279 middle game in his singles to tie three others for second best game of the individual event. His series was 667. Larry Shawney of Brooklyn ground out a 698 via game of 224, 246 and 228 to land in an eleventh place tie with Ira Kitzmiller of Camden, N. J.

City Marbles Meet Opens Monday, May 3

New Castle's city-wide marbles tournament for boys and girls will open Monday, May 3, it was officially decided late Wednesday when the physicial education directors of the city's public schools met with the tournament committee of The Townsmen, sponsor club for the tourney, to discuss the tournament set-up.

Almost 35 physical education supervisors gathered at the call of Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green to hear the plans reviewed.

NYA Lends Aid, Too

The teachers group will direct preparations for the marbles eliminations at the different buildings, although a group of National Youth Administration representatives is going to officiate at the games.

Representing The Townsmen committee assigned to organize the undertaking, Daniel H. Treloar, Jr., told the school teachers that the winner of the New Castle meet will be sent to the International Marbles tournament at Wildwood, N. J., during the last week of June. The Townsmen will finance the winner's one-week trip.

After reviewing the contest, Mr. Treloar distributed copies of the mimeographed rules and regulations for the entrants.

Dr. Green Endorses It

Superintendent Green had given his full endorsement to the tournament just before Mr. Treloar spoke. "I believe this is a fine thing—and everyone knows that marbles is the real American game for boys or girls!"

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, Mr. Treloar and his committee will meet with the NYA representatives who are going to officiate over the contests. Details of the conduct of the games will be discussed.

After the various buildings have chosen winners, the buildings of the different sections — north, east, south and west — will compete to name a sectional champ. Those sectional champs later will compete for the city title.

The Townsmen today assigned Alfred H. Owens to supervise the North hill contests, John R. Hodge to supervise the South side events, Don Thompson to supervise the East side elminations, and Lauri Laurell to supervise the West side groups. The Seventh ward and the downtown public schools and the parochial schools will be definitely placed in one of the four groups within a day or so.

Trip and Watch Promised

Besides the national contest competition with the accompanying sightseeing trip, the New Castle champ will be awarded a wrist watch and the runner-up a handsome cup. It is considered likely that all school champs will also be furnished some award.

School children whose 15th birthday comes after July 1 will not be eligible to enter the meet, leaders said.

Several years have passed since the last city-wide marbles meet.

'Red' Ruffing Remains Firm

Difference Of $500 Separating Ruffing And New York Yankees

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 22—We give you today, Mr. Charlie Ruffing, of the Yankees, the only man in baseball, who knows what he wants and undoubtedly is going to get it. He wants $500.

Mr. Ruffing is probably very unimportant except as a symbol. He is a holdout, and the man he is holding out against has a personal fortune of $75,000,000. But the sum of money over which they are at odds is that $500. Ruffing wants $15,500. Out of the bigness of his great but conservative heart, Col. Jake Ruppert is willing to go as far as $15,000. I think he is funny, but maybe I'm wrong.

Won 20 Games

He has a 20 game winner that he can buy for $500, and I happen to know that if I want to promote a relative on my wife's side for a trip south as a prospect with the Yankees they would be only glad to take him on. The outlay would be worth at least $500.

Whether Ruffing is wrong or right is something that the writer probably has no business to say. All I know, as a matter of fact, is that the man would and will decide the difference between a pennant for the New York Yankees or a second place club.

Of course, it's not my $500 and, therefore it is strictly up to the Yankees to spend their money the way they wish. Moreover, the current season consists of one ball game and in consequence nobody can prove anything, either for or against them.

I don't suppose it makes any difference, but my admiration for Mr. Ruffing somewhat exceeds my admiration for the ball club, which currently is pleased with itself to the extent of announcing that Ruffing positively will not get a cent more than $15,000. Perhaps that is what they consider a diplomatic handling of the situation. I think they are crazy.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

If we remember correctly and I think we do . . . on December 31st 1936, H. W. Booher, 102 West Garfield Ave., reported to this column that he had seen two caterpillars with winter suits pointing south and he took this to mean we were to have a mild winter . . . it seems that you read the signs correctly Mr. Booher . . . what do you predict the summer to be? . . . voice your opinion young man.

* * *

And still another . . . we return to the farm and pick our politicians . . . they seem to be making pretty good stock for politicians . . . this young man has been true to his party through thick and thin . . . he keeps a level head and when he says he will do a thing he does it . . . maybe not right at that moment but give him time and he will do it.....he has every ounce of his energy in his work and will do every thing in his power to make Lawrence county a better place in which to drive . . . his farm by the way is an excellent example of what a farm should be . . . he is a real farmer and a gentleman . . . even though he is a politician.

* * *

That new song.....well, it's not very old....."Pennies From Heaven" and it goes to say that every time it rains, it rains pennies from heaven . . . well I spent three hours in the down pour last night with my umbrella upside down and the only thing I caught was the (you know) from the battle axe . . . such is life . . . always belittling.

* * *

It's that time of year when you find romance and when you find romance you find what we have in the column here . . . a lot of benedicts.....although we haven't as many as some of the other columns of this paper . . . they are a funny lot . . . can you remember when you were one.

* * *

It's time you came to the aid of yourself . . . do you know that you only have 2,880 minutes a week to transact your regular business . . . you need every spare moment to rest and play . . . the classified ads will work while you rest and play.

Profit-Taking Turns Market Into Irregular Affair, Undertone Is Steady

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 22—Profit taking turned the stock market into an irregular affair today after the upswing had been extended into the fourth day at the opening. The general undertone continued steady, however.

Price changes for the most part were unimportant and volume dried up as leaders settled back from first half-hour peaks.

The advent of profit taking late in the first hour converted many of the earlier gains in such pivotal groups as motors, coppers and steels into small losses. Chrysler dropped a point from its previous close after being up fractionally and General Motors also declined.

U. S. Steel fluctuations were typical. After starting a half-point higher at 116⅛, the stock tapered off to just above 115.

Aviations, liquors, rubbers and utilities were among the groups to maintain a generally firm tone, with most issues here a bit higher on the day. Rails displayed an irregularly higher trend.

National Biscuit depressed food shares as it slipped fractionally into new low ground for the year. Texas Corp. in the oils hit a new 1937 top before reacting.

Bonds were well mixed in moderate dealings. U. S. governments again were under pressure, losing close to a half-point. Grains were steady, while cotton eased 25 cents a bale.

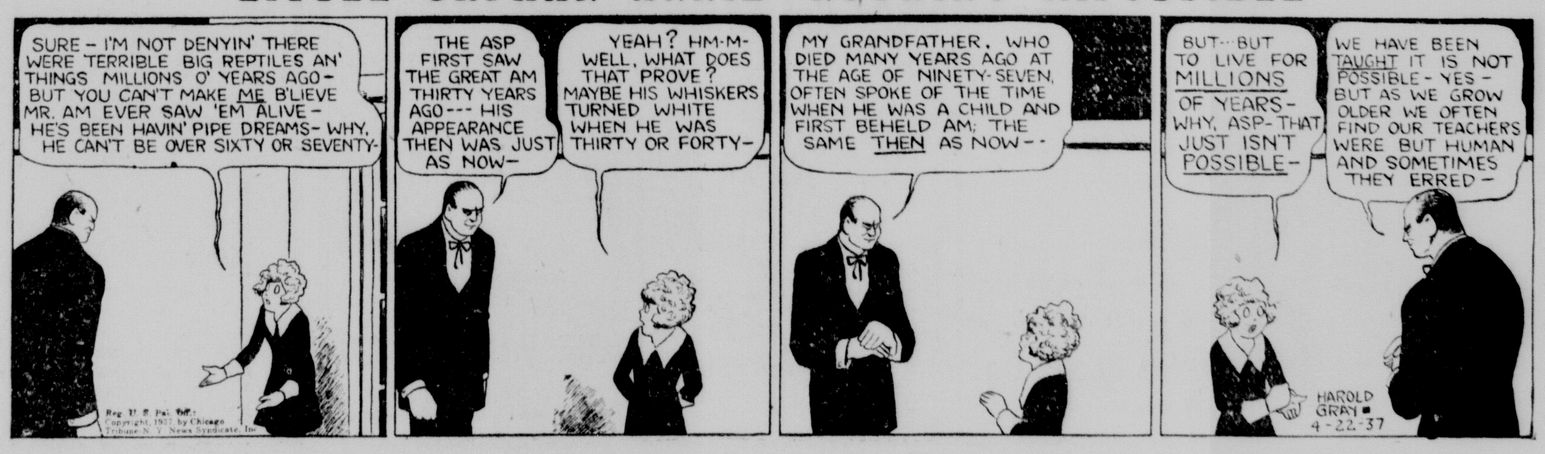
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—NOTHING IMPOSSIBLE



New Members Are Welcomed At Luncheon Of Kiwanians

Five new members—one of them the youngest ever to be inducted into Kiwanis here—was formally welcomed by the New Castle Kiwanis club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton yesterday.

The formal reception took up most of the program period.

The Rev. Harold McCurdy, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church and one of the new members welcomed, delivered the principal address of the day on "My Impressions After Six Months of Association With Ki-Wanis." His message was short and to the point—and thoroughly enjoyed.

President Thomas L. Paden, who opened the meeting, introduced Jas. Mayberry as the chairman of the day's program. Mr. Mayberry in turn welcomed long-time Kiwanis members who extended the club's greetings to the newcomers.

Hodge, At 23, Is Youngest

Young John R. Hodge, just 23, was the new member who had the added distinction of being the youngest member ever to be taken into Kiwanis here. He was greeted and presented his Kiwanis pin by Fred C. Wolford. Both Mr. Wolford and Hodge fill mortician classifications in the club.

Others welcomed were:

William Langan, manager of the J. C. Penny store, welcomed by R. L. Wallace.

B. French Johnson, chemist, New Castle Water Company welcomed by J. D. Reebel.

L. O. Rowe, manager here for the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., welcomed by S. B. Cleal.

And the Rev. McCurdy, pastor of the Epworth church and the day's speaker, welcomed by Norman E. Clark, an Epworth member, as well as a Kiwanian.

All received Kiwanis pins.

At Coraopolis Tuesday night six members of the New Castle club participated in a conference of Central West District Kiwanis clubs. They were President Paden, Secretary L. C. Mantz, J. G. Gormley, C. D. Parker, Fred C. Wolford and Ralph Ramsey.

Longshoremen In Strike Against Steamship Lines

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 22—A strike against ships of the Cunard White Star line and Furness-Withy-Lines, both British companies, was in effect today in all ports between Portland, Me., and Hampton Roads, Va., on orders from the International Longshoremen's Association.

The tie-up, according to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the ILA, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, was called to force the lines to recognize the union in Montreal.

Ryan declared no ships of the two companies would be served by longshoremen in this country unless the lines abandoned their present relations with the National Independent Union, a Canadian organization said to control the loading of ships and Montreal, and agreed to sign a ILA contract.

School Boy Is Being Hunted

But if the Tories were trying to put over the Amendment, the present method would seem dangerously simple and easy.

Labor Ranks Are Split In Georgia

Half Of Delegates To State Convention Walk Out On Sessions

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., April 22.—The long expected split in Georgia's organized labor ranks became a reality today when approximately half the delegates to the Georgia Federation of Labor convention walked out under lead of Francis Dillon, personal representative of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and formed a "rump" convention of their own.

The walkout of those loyal to the standard of the AFL came at the orders of Dillon, who was sent here to oust A. Steve Nance, president of the Georgia Federation, because of his alleged connections with the committee for industrial organization.

Upon his arrival here Tuesday night, Dillon ordered Nance, who heads the drive to organize textile workers of the south, to resign as president of the state body.

In reply, Nance declared he had been loyal to the AFL for 25 years. He turned the gavel of the presidency back to the delegates for their instructions.

The delegates then awarded Nance the gavel at the opening session today.
